SECOND COLLECTION – NEXT WEEKEND

Next weekend's collection for the Retirement Fund for Religious benefits 26,000 Catholic senior sisters, brothers and religious order priests. During their days of active ministry, they worked tirelessly to build Catholic schools and hospitals, promote social justice, and embrace the neediest among us. Your gift to next week's collection helps provide care, medicine and more. Please be generous.

MARIAN LESSONS AND CAROLS

On Tuesday, December 7 at 7 PM at St. Vincent Ferrer, there will be a Service of Lessons and Carols in honor of the Blessed Virgin Mary. This hour-long celebration of the life of Mary will consist of a sequence of scripture readings, motets sung by the Schola Cantorum, and congregational hymns.

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION

Wednesday, December 8 is the Solemnity of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary, a Holy Day of Obligation and the Patronal Feast of the United States. There will be a Solemn Mass at 6 PM at St. Vincent Ferrer for which the Schola Cantorum will sing Felix Mendelssohn's Mass for Double Choir and Anton Bruckner's Ave Maria and Tota pulchra es, Maria.

The 12:10 PM Mass at St. Vincent Ferrer will be a Sung Mass.

In addition to the regular weekday Mass and Confession schedule, there will be a 1 PM Low Mass at St. Catherine of Siena.

The evening Masses on Tuesday, December 7 will be for the Vigil of the Solemnity.

The Act of Total Consecration to Jesus Christ through Mary will be made after Wednesday's 5:15 PM Mass at St. Catherine of Siena.

OUR LADY OF GUADALUPE – ST. JUAN DIEGO

This year, the Feast of Our Lady of Guadalupe (December 12) is superseded by the Third Sunday of Advent. Therefore, the Parish will instead have a Sung Mass and Procession to the Shrine of Our Lady of Guadalupe on Thursday, December 9 at 6 PM at St. Vincent Ferrer. This is the Feast day of St. Juan Diego, the Mexican peasant to whom the Blessed Virgin appeared on Tepeyac hill in Mexico City. Canonized by Pope John Paul II in 2002, Juan Diego is the first Catholic saint indigenous to the Americas.

MUSIC NOTES

Next weekend, for the Third Sunday of Advent (Gaudete Sunday), the Schola will sing music from the German Renaissance. Hamburg-born Hieronymus Praetorius first studied organ with his father Jacob Praetorius the elder (1520-1586) and served as his assistant at St. Jacobi, becoming principal organist upon Jacob's death. In 1596, Hieronymus traveled to Gröningen where he met Michael Praetorius (no relation) and Hans Leo Hassler. It is likely that from this encounter Hieronymus adopted the progressive Venetian polychoral style that he introduced into north Germany. He was also the first composer to compile a collection of four-part German chorales with organ accompaniment which would become the typical sound of Protestant music for centuries. Praetorius took musical material from Meiland's Advent motet, which sets a text adapted from Genesis, and wrote an Ordinary based on it.

Missa Non auferetur sceptrum – Hieronymus Praetorius (1560-1629)

Non auferetur sceptrum – Lavabit in vino – Jacob Meiland (1542-1577)

The Dominican Charism – Prayer & Compline

When I was in college, I was part of a missionary group that traveled up and down the East coast in the summers and to different places throughout the year. We prayed together, lived together, ministered together, and lived a very beautiful communal life. One of our daily practices was to pray the Divine Office together, and our singing of Compline was particularly important to us. At the end we sang the Salve Regina, blessed each other with Holy Water, and then had a sort of pax embrace, or offering of peace, where we asked forgiveness for the ways we had offended one another that day.

The post-Compline practices of singing the Salve and the sprinkling rite actually have their foundation in the Dominican practice of praying Compline. In the early part of the Order, just after St. Dominic died, a certain Br. Bernard suffered greatly from having been possessed by a demon. This demon spoke profound words to the friars in Bologna in an effort to lead them astray, and he even manifested sweet odors such as no perfumer could concoct. Yet, something about this seemed out of place to Bl. Jordan, St. Dominic's successor as Master of the Order. With a question about what might be happening, one day during the Psalm at Mass, "Judge, O Lord, those who harm me," Bl. Jordan begged the Lord to give him the wisdom to discern whether these words and smells were from the Lord or from the evil one. Hardly had he prayed to the Lord, when the odor was unmasked. The demon, realizing he was discovered, began to spout forth foul words since his wickedness had now been made known.

In response to this, the brethren in Bologna began to chant the Salve Regina at the end of Compline. This had profound effects on Br. Bernard and the community, and as such the singing of the Salve quickly spread to the rest of the Order. One of the brothers even reported that during the words "Turn, then, most gracious advocate, thine eyes of mercy toward us," that "he often saw the Mother of our Lord prostrate before her Son praying for the security of the whole Order" (Libellus of Bl. Jordan, para. 120).

Similarly, other visions of the Blessed Virgin guided the practice of the Dominican Order. On a couple of occasions (one for St. Dominic and another for Bl. Jordan), the Blessed Mother was seen coming through the dormitory where the friars slept at night and sprinkling them with holy water. This led to the practice of one of the friars sprinkling the rest of the friars in choir with holy water during the singing of the Salve.

There is something so close to the heart of every Dominican about praying Compline. From the Salve, to the sprinkling, to the ancient tradition of the friars visiting the altars in the church after Compline and begging the intercession of the saints before they retired to bed, Compline holds a special place in the daily prayer life of the Dominican Order. This last hour of the Divine Office wraps up our prayers for the day and prepares us for rest before another day of preaching. The Gospel Canticle for Compline, the Nunc Dimittis, sums this up so well: "Lord, now you let your servant go in peace; / your word has been fulfilled: / my own eyes have seen the salvation / which you have prepared in the sight of every people: / a light to reveal you to the nations / and the glory of your people Israel." Having seen the fruits of our preaching during the day and the salvation that the Lord has done in the "sight of every people," we now ask His leave to rest in peace for the night.

This practice does not just have to remain in our two churches though. The practice of praying Compline as a family and among friends is a beautiful one. There is time for an examination of conscience, which can help ease pains and grudges, the Gospel canticle can help with resting peacefully, and the singing of the Salve and the sprinkling rite are beautiful ways to ask the Blessed Mother's guidance and protection on the family and friends. Whether or not you too would choose to introduce a sort of post-Compline pax embrace, this prayer can be healing. Moreover, in its brevity, Compline is also completely reasonable to pray weekly or even daily.

As we continue this season of Advent and the preparation for the Lord's threefold coming—at the end of time, in our hearts now, and in Bethlehem—praying Compline as a family or with friends could be a particularly fruitful Advent prayer. When our hearts become more and more freed from burdens and concerns, we are more able to be attentive to the Lord's coming and the graces that He desires to pour out upon us this Christmas.

In Christ and through Our Holy Father Dominic,

Fr. Peter Martyr Jungwirth, O.P.
