The New Life of Easter

GROUNDING OUR FAITH AND HOPE

“Resurrection is a restoring from death to life” (St. Thomas Aquinas, ST III, q. 53, art. 3, corp.). Christ’s resurrection is about new life. This isn’t just His new life, though. It’s also about our new life. Jesus’ resurrection bolsters our faith, it strengthens our hope, and it enlivens our charity. Why? St. Paul says, “If Christ has not been raised, then our preaching is in vain and your faith is in vain...If Christ has not been raised, your faith is futile and you are still in your sins...But in fact Christ has been raised from the dead, the first fruits of those who have fallen asleep” (1 Corinthians 15:14, 17, 20). Since Jesus truly rose from the dead in such a way that He would die no more, then everything He said is true. Our faith in His resurrection, in His divinity, in the Eucharist, in heaven, in everything that He said and promised is truly grounded in reality.

St. Thomas, following St. Augustine and St. Bede, also points out that since the risen Christ still bears the scars of the passion—the trophies of His victory—this should confirm our faith in the mercy of God. The wounds, which “have never since been removed from His body” (ST III, q. 54, art. 4, ad 3) are signs that He still loves us and recognizes our pain. Yet, just like wounding, pain, and even death did not hold Him back from loving us 2000 years ago, so too will they not hold Him back from loving us even now.

GROUNDING OUR LIVES

All of this should truly lead us to live in a whole new way. Drawing on St. Augustine, St. John Paul II famously said, “We are an Easter people” (Angelus, 30 November 1986). This beautifully encapsulates something we see in the Easter Masses: “Paschal joy.” In the Preface during Mass throughout the entirety of the Easter season, the Church invites us to live with Paschal joy, the joy that comes from the reality of the resurrection. This is a joy that should well up in our hearts because if Jesus rose from the dead, then He can conquer everything. He can conquer sin in our lives, He can conquer fear and doubt that come with terminal sicknesses, He can conquer scrupulosity, He can conquer all forms of attacks by the evil one and his minions, and He can conquer each and every challenge that we experience. Since Jesus rose from the dead, we can live in a whole new way where we place all our hope and trust in Him. For just as He rose from the dead so too does He want to raise us up from those things that would seem to weigh us down or even destroy us. He desires that we too live in the freedom that He now experiences in heaven. This is something about which we can be truly joyful!

“Christ Appears to Mary Magdalene on Easter Morning,” Peter Paul Rubens and Jan Brueghel the Younger; 1626, Kunsthalle Bremen Museum, Bremen, Germany

This then should ground our lives. It should propel us forward to share the joy of the Gospel. It should lead the Paschal joy to well up in our hearts so that others can see that something is different. From our interactions with the homeless on the streets or in parks, to even the briefest conversations with the cashier at the grocery store, to the longer conversations with bosses or coworkers in the office, our Paschal joy can become a means to help them see that something is different in us. Sometimes, that might even lead to a conversation about what is different in our lives: Jesus’ risen presence with us and how that leads to a deep and abiding joy.

So let us enter into this Easter Season with a new joy, a joy that comes from the Resurrection and which overflows into all aspects of our lives. For when we live with Paschal joy, God can use us as His instruments to help bring about the salvation of the world.

In the risen Christ and through St. Thomas’s intercession,
Fr. Peter Martyr Yungwirth, O.P.

Upcoming Events

SUNDAY, MARCH 31

MASSES OF EASTER WEEK

The Octave of Easter, also known as Easter Week, is the eight-day period of celebration that runs from Easter Sunday through Low Sunday. There will be a Sung Mass at 6 PM at St. Vincent's, Monday–Friday (April 1–6).

In the Christian tradition, the number eight is a symbol of fulfillment and transition, breaking the seven-day rhythm of life to a new way of being. (That is why, for example, many baptismal fonts have eight sides.) Some of the greatest feasts of the liturgical calendar are given an "Octave," prolonging the joyful festivities of the solemnity.

Because Easter Sunday is the highest ranking of all days of the liturgical year, Easter not only gets an Octave, but an entire season, known as Eastertide, which encompasses the Ascension and lasts 50 days until Pentecost. The Pascal Candle, blessed on the Easter Vigil, is kept burning in the sanctuary throughout Eastertide.

MONDAY, APRIL 1

In observance of Easter, the Parish Offices will be closed on Monday, April 1.

MUSIC NOTESFor Sunday, April 7, 12 NOON

- Missa Victimae Paschali laudes*
– Giovanni Animuccia (c. 1520-1571)

From Palm Sunday through Easter Sunday, the Parish offered 8 services with the Schola Cantorum, recognized as one of the finest Catholic choirs in the country. The ensemble sang 4 settings of the Mass Ordinary, 18 motets, 2 Passions, 1 Magnificat, and 1 Nunc dimittis. All but three of these items were brand new to our repertoire! This does not even consider the approximately 50 pieces of chant for which the group was responsible. For every Mass, the only rehearsal the Schola has is for 75 minutes immediately beforehand.

Please consult the Music List on the tables in the narthex and online for a complete list of repertoire for Eastertide and upcoming feasts and consider making an Easter contribution to our St. Cecilia Guild, the group of patrons who financially support the music program. Email James Wetzel, the Director of Music, with any questions: jwetzel@svsc.info.
